Boca Helping Hands Celebrates the New Year with the Inaugural Preview Cocktail Party at Their New Home

BOCA RATON, January 17th 2010- Friday night, January 15th, was a perfect evening. Dignitaries and members of the community descended upon the new home of Boca Helping Hands with excitement and anticipation. The VIP Inaugural Preview Party at the Remillard Family Resource Center was an evening of music, food and cocktails, and genuine gaiety.

The new state of the art facility which will bring all BHH programs under one roof showed beautifully. "It made me very proud to be able to show the tangible results of all of our hard work. We are excited at the possibilities this new facility allows." Linda Gove, Executive Director commented.

Arthur J. Remillard, Jr., the namesake for the building, addressed the crowd that evening and spoke of the good works of Boca Helping Hands and encouraged others to make a financial contribution to the organization. Also at the podium were Board President Gary Peters, Executive Director Linda Gove, and Board Member Pattie Damron. All spoke of the previous accomplishments and the immeasurable program growth that can be expected. "Hold on!" Linda Gove cautioned the guests.

The Remillard Family Resource Center boasts a larger Food Center with a professional kitchen, a Job Mentoring Pavilion with 12 brand new computers donated by IBM, private rooms for interviewing clients, and more. For a tour of the new facility, please call Brooke at 561-417-0913 or e-mail brooke@bocahelpinghands.org.
